Accomplishments Or Promises Says Mayor At Republican Rally

Tells of Efforts Under Way to Bring New Industries to Kingston and Furnish Employment.

POINTS TO RECORD

Heiselein Declares His Record Is Open Book for All Interested to See.

Kingston's need of new industries to give employment to those seeking work and what the city administration was doing to solve the problem was again emphasized by Mayor C. J. Heiselein at the rally of the Republican Club on Thursday evening. The mayor also alluded to Judge Heiselein's campaign and suggested that it was time that the judge informed the residents of Kingston where he stood on important questions. As the judge was without a platform the mayor suggested that the judge should stand on a Republican platform which was made from the brick of lower taxes and cemented together with a record of improved and enlarged service to the public.

Mayor Heiselein said that the judge so far in his campaign was making the claim that the new intermediate school and new vocational training school were inadequate, although both the local board of education and the state department of education had approved the plans, and if the judge chose not to believe the state department and the local education board why then it was just too bad for the judge.

The mayor, who was heartily applauded, said that the money used in advertising Kingston was raised by holding the Friday night boxing bouts in the auditorium. He called attention to the thousands of motorists who pass through the city and said if sufficient funds were obtained his plan was to erect sign boards at the entrances to the city calling attention to the fact that Kingston was the gateway to the playgrounds of the state; that it was an ideal vacation city and industrial center.

Displays Design
Mayor Heiselein displayed a design for such a sign board which had been drawn by a local artist and given to him that evening. The design was most attractive and arresting to the eye. It showed a girl dressed for skiing and in large letters called attention to Kingston as the center for winter sports.

Mayor Heiselein again gave a resume of his administration and what it had done in giving the city the lowest tax rates in the past ten years and in addition giving the residents more and better municipal service at less cost. He spoke as follows:

Eighteen days from today the voters of this city will go to the polls and by their voice decide who is to administer the municipal affairs during 1938 and 1939.

In January, 1934, through no desire or choice of my own, the responsibilities of mayor's office became mine. Faced with tremendous responsibilities and confronted with grave and momentous problems, and with little political experience, I resolved that the gravity of the situation required nothing less than the full measure of devotion to the public welfare and a strict adherence to the principles of public service, impartially rendered, honestly administered and designed for the benefit of all the people of the city.

In the four years of my administration, and with the huge sums expended by us for various categories of relief, I have yet to hear of any citizen who was discriminated against because of race, creed, color or political affiliation.

I have yet to hear of any substantial order for city supplies which has not gone to the lowest bidder—regardless of their political faith.

Food orders, in the welfare department, have been equitably distributed among the grocers of the city.

In short, we have conducted the business of the city on a business basis. We believe that the best politics a mayor can play is to give his people good, sound, honest government.

On election day two years ago we carried out of 13 wards. This proved that our philosophy of government was correct.

On November 2, the voters will again have the opportunity to say whether they still think that Kingston the best politics to play is to give the people clean, honest and efficient government.

Political Promises.
Since time immemorial, politicians, before election, have been promising the people more services and lower taxes. A few carry out their promises, but many do not.

In 1934 and 1935, we increased the improved municipal services and lowered the taxes, although I, to being then a candidate for mayor, was never called on to make a pledge to that effect. I

Junior League Holds Meeting to Coordinate Local Welfare Units

Representatives of the various organizations of the city interested in welfare work were present last evening at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. William Shuler on Albany avenue. This was the second meeting of this group to be called by the Junior League with the hope of forming a council to stimulate planned programs and to prevent overlapping of welfare work.

Those represented on this council are: Mayor Conrad J. Heiselein; Kiwanis Club, N. J. Fowler; Lions Club, Gordon Craig; The Ulster County Medical Society, Dr. Voss; Rotary, Burton Davis; The Parent-Teacher Association, Mrs. J. H. Craig; State Charities Aid, the Rev. Clarence E. Brown; Ulster County T. B. Committee, Miss Katherine Murphy; the Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of New York, Miss Grace Connelly; Board of Health, Dr. Sanford; the Kingston Hospital, Miss J. P. Allen; Beneficent Hospital, Sister M. Borence; Department of Public Welfare, Miss Catherine Dunnigan; Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. J. C. Fraser; Hudson Valley Optical Society, Dr. S. Stern; Ulster County Dental Study Club, Dr. A. L. Hill; President's Ball Committee, Robert Donnarumma; Social Service Exchange, Mrs. E. K. Wood; Board of Education, Alfred Schmid; Federated Men's Clubs, Gordon Craig.

At the meeting each representative discussed the type of work carried on by his particular organization. Mr. Fowler, speaking for Kiwanis, said that at one time they conducted a dental clinic for school children and gave out milk in the schools. These things are now being done by other agencies, and the club is looking for a worthy project. Mr. Fowler said that Kiwanis feels that this council will be of assistance in helping them select a project. Mr. Davis told of Rotary's Boys' Club, at the Y. M. C. A. and camp. Rotary also on occasion has supplied wheel chairs and crutches to needy persons.

Dr. Sanford told of the work done by the Board of Health toward the immunization of infants and children, and of the constant effort to continue the lowering of the infant mortality in the city. Great strides have already been made in this line. Mrs. Craig said that the Parent-Teacher Association supplies milk for undernourished school children, and has also bought glasses and clothing when necessary. Miss Connelly discussed the work done by the Catholic Charities, this organization gives family care, supplying any necessary medical attention as well as other relief. Miss Dunnigan, of the Department of Public Welfare told of the types of medical care provided for recipients of relief.

A report was read of the Ulster County T. B. Committee which conducts a camp each summer giving 96 children a month of fresh air, good food and instruction in good health habits. This committee has also held meetings to discuss the prevention of syphilis. Reports were also read of the Federation of Women's Clubs and Board of Health. The latter has a medical department which serves all schools, and also conducts a dental clinic. Recently a mental clinic has been established.

Several of those present expressed appreciation of the manner in which this council brings to light exactly what work of this kind is being done. The next meeting will be devoted to organizing the council, and definite plans will be made about establishing a clearing house for cases.

Work Described.

Discontinuing Line.

Work of grading the second section of the job from the Jones property through the new alignment to West Hurley is being continued. There is much fill to be placed in this stretch and work can be carried on during the fall and winter so as to have the right of way ready for laying of concrete next summer.

Soviet Moves Reported.

Tokyo, Oct. 15 (AP).—The correspondent of the newspaper Nichi Nichi at Tientsin, in northern Manchoukuo, reported today heavy, mechanized Soviet troop movements through Ulan Bator, capital of outer Mongolia. (Japanese reported yesterday the capture of Kewisui, capital of Suifu province, which would bring under Japanese control a vast area on the border of outer Mongolia, the seat of Soviet Russia's Chinese influence.)

Britain, France Plan Showdown With Duce On Armies in Spain

France's Patience With Duce's Delay at an End, but British are More Reserved, Saying They Bear No Malice.

SEARCH FOR PEACE

Chamberlain Says Britain Will Seek to Dispel Ill-Will Among Nations.

London, Oct. 15 (AP).—Britain and France, determined to make no more major concessions to Italy, planned procedure today for a showdown with Premier Mussolini on the question of withdrawing his armies from Spain.

The climax of 15 months of effort to confine the civil war to Spain will come when the London sub-committee of the London non-intervention committee meets tomorrow in an attempt to agree on a plan to remove thousands of foreigners fighting in Spain.

France's patience with Mussolini's delaying tactics were plainly at an end. The British were more reserved but the London-Paris allies stood agreed to speedy counter-measures to restore "the balance in Spain" if the sub-committee's deliberations prove fruitless.

British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain said last night "if we are attacked we should know how to defend ourselves as we always have done in the past but it is not in the temperament of our people to bear malice."

Referring to both Spain and China, Chamberlain said: "We shall continue to seek and take any opportunities that may offer to remove the causes of ill will and suspicion among nations."

Editorial Reaction

The Times of London which is close to His Majesty's conservative government, said of the situation: "The open abuse of the whole policy (of non-intervention) cannot continue and a great responsibility will rest upon any power that fails to cooperate wholeheartedly for a speedy agreement."

The fact that the British and French general staffs already were discussing steps to be taken in case the diplomatic talks fail showed the seriousness with which Paris and London viewed Mussolini's bid for domination of the Western Mediterranean.

France was determined to keep open her sea "highway" to her colonial possessions in Africa and Britain was pledged to back her.

Observers were skeptical that Italy would readily agree to withdraw her many thousands of Blackshirts from Spain.

France and Britain were expected to urge a quick agreement at tomorrow's sub-committee session but any proposal would likely have to be referred back to the great governments. Other nations participating in the sub-committee are Italy, Germany, Russia, Belgium, Portugal, Sweden and Czechoslovakia.

Paris and London were ready to grant belligerent rights to both warring sides in Spain if progress could be made toward withdrawal of foreign soldiers but the Soviet Union was opposed—a stand which may create complications.

French Skeptical

Paris, Oct. 15 (AP) French diplomats, openly skeptical of renewed efforts of the non-intervention committee to isolate the Spanish civil war, advanced a proposal today of "symbolic" and "proportional" withdrawal of foreign volunteers from Spain.

Authoritative sources predicted the plan sponsored by the French and British would call for double action by those nations whose volunteers are now fighting in the Insurgent and Government armies.

Immediately after the committee assemblies in London Saturday, the members will be asked to approve withdrawal of a small number of volunteers from both sides as a gauge of "sincerity and good faith."

The committee would then formulate a plan for proportional retirement of foreign fighters, principally on estimates of the number of non-Spanish volunteers on both sides.

"Stiff battles can be expected," an authoritative source said, "before such a method is accepted," adding the whole project must be supervised by neutral groups such as the non-intervention observers formerly on frontier duty.

Hoboes on Way Out

Washington, Oct. 15 (AP).—The number of hoboes is on the downward trend, the Association of American Railroads said today, citing 80,000 fewer ejections from trains and yards the first half of this year than in the same period of 1936.

The motorist who wishes to make a turn, should signal the officer in plenty of time and clearly the direction in which he wishes to go.

Justice Poletti Appeals For Non-Partisan Convention Choices

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 15 (AP).—Supreme Court Justice Charles Poletti, former counsel to Governor Lehman, appealed today for non-partisan selection of delegates to New York's 1938 constitutional convention.

"The selection should not be predicated upon political affiliations or allegiances," he told the State League of Women Voters in convention here. "There should be an insistence that voters select as delegates only men and women of high character, sound judgment and practical experience, men and women who stand ready to devote their time and energies for several months to this difficult task."

Justice Poletti, chairman of the governor's committee to gather data preliminary to the convention, said that a controversy over President Roosevelt's proposal "has served to focus all eyes again upon a re-examination of the functions and jurisdiction of our three great branches of government and its systems of checks and balances."

Justice Poletti said there had been exaggeration of the role that political and partisan factors play in a constitutional convention. He gave the votes on controversial subjects of the 1915 meeting showing that Republican and Democratic delegates joined on most occasions in supporting or rejecting the proposals.

Cost of Convention

The speaker said that he expected the cost of the convention would exceed the $1,300,000 spent for the last one.

He listed as probable topics: Establishment of a state budget reserve, an appointive as against an elective judiciary, strengthening of home rule for cities and counties, reorganization of local government, a review of law enforcement system, establishment of a department of justice, law enforcement and slum clearance reorganization, social security and public welfare.

Justice Poletti said the committee appointed by the Governor is preparing three volumes detailing the history of every provision of the state constitution, containing in detail the constitutions of the other 47 states, and outlining the departments of state government.

Review Expected

Poletti, chairman of the Governor's unofficial committee to prepare data for the use of convention delegates, was expected to review some of the work done thus far by that group.

His address came a day after Attorney General John J. Bennett Jr. had ruled that a "suitable and adequate" method of voting individually for delegates at large to the convention must be made available on November 2.

In a letter to Secretary of State Edward J. Munn, the attorney general quoted a 1936 law stipulating that the names of candidates for delegates at large will not appear on voting machines, merely that party name and the

Two British Constables Slain in Mandated Palestine Territory in Outbreak of Arabs—Terrific Battle at Shanghai.

SOVIET MOVES

Japanese Say Russian Mechanized Forces Busy in Outer Mongolia.

(By The Associated Press)

Terrorism in the Holy Land, reaching an acute stage with the ambush slaying of two British constables, centered diplomatic attention today on another of the world's trouble spots.

Even as the British government was concentrating efforts on preventing the Spanish civil war from spreading into a European conflagration, this latest manifestation of Arab unrest came from its mandated Palestine territory, along the scene of Arab-Jewish conflict.

Reports from the Orient, where Japanese and Chinese troops are fighting fiercely in Shanghai and engaged along a wide front in North China, gave no hope of any immediate settlement of this grave conflict.

United States Ambassador Nelson Johnson forwarded from Nanking to the State Department in Washington a copy of the protest of the American community of Szechwan Province against Japanese action in China. The protest urged the United States to use every peaceful means to withdraw moral and material support from Japan.

Soviet Movements

The correspondents of the newspaper Nichi Nichi at Tientsin, in Northern Manchoukuo, reported today heavy movements of mechanized Soviet troops through Ulan Bator, capital of Outer Mongolia.

In Shanghai, the Chinese army was making a strong attack to drive off a long-expected Japanese general offensive. Numerous civilian casualties occurred in the International Settlement. Chinese troops raided Japanese lines in the Chapel section and, after declaring they felt confident of being able to hold their own against the Japanese there.

Roosevelt Sees Mediation

At Hyde Park, President Roosevelt said in substance today that an attempt at mediation of the Sino-Japanese conflict would be the first step considered by the conference at Brussels of the nine-power treaty signatories, including the United States.

Asked at a press conference if mediation was a fair assumption to be drawn from his "bribe" radio speech last Tuesday night, the President remarked he had said that in so many words.

While refusing comment on the stock market decline, he indicated he might have something to say on the subject in a general way in his messages to the special and regular sessions of Congress.

Asked if the market developments were bothering him, he told his inquirer to wait and see his messages to the legislature.

He would not comment on the speech yesterday of Winthrop W. Aldrich, president of the Chase National Bank, blaming the drop in securities prices on federal regulation and urging revision of the capital gains and income tax rates.

Shanghai Battle Intense

Shanghai, Oct. 15 (AP).—An intense battle raged today in the Chapel and Honkew sectors, where the Chinese armies were making a bitter counter thrust to drive off the long-expected Japanese general attack along the 25-mile battle front northwest of Shanghai.

Three Japanese civilians were killed and three wounded, a Japanese spokesman announced, during the Chinese shelling of Honkew. One of the dead was Tomokato Iwakura, a young brother of Prince Iwakura.

One shell struck the famous Astor House Hotel, now occupied by Japanese refugees, and another hit the Seventh Day Adventist hospital on Range Road, the spokesman said.

After two hours of savage, close quarter fighting through the streets of Honkew, the Chinese forces were confident of holding the Chapel sector against anything the Japanese have to offer, a spokesman said.

A tour of the battle area this morning showed the Japanese barricades badly smashed while the Chinese were safely in possession of scores of alleyways and lanes formerly held by the Japanese.

HIGHLAND NEWS

Many Attended Wedding Rites

Highland, Oct. 14.—The auditorium of the Methodist church was filled Sunday afternoon for the wedding of Miss Mildred Osterhout to Laverne Davis. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. S. A. MacCormac and the floral decorations about the altar and placed in the windows were profuse and the floral arrangements at the home were beautifully arranged by Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Donovan.

Miss Osterhout, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lavinia E. Osterhout, was given in marriage by her father, wore her mother's wedding dress of thirty years ago, which was of ivory crepe de chene trimmed with panne velvet and made with train. She wore a veil and carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and lily of the valley with mallow and lace bows. She was attended by Miss Ruth Martin, who wore a brown tulle gown with accessories of rust and she carried a cascade bouquet of tallman roses with lace bows. The bridesmaids were Ethel and Hertha Huson of Claverack, were the bridesmaids and were in gowns of rust tulle with accessories of brown and carried bouquets of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums. Theodore Wood, Jr., was flower bearer. William Davis, of Poughkeepsie, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and the ushers were Charles J. Osterhout, brother of the bride, John Sprink, John O'Brien and Austin Allen, of Pine Plains.

A reception followed at the home and was attended by 100 persons. Refreshments were served with 18 at the bridal table and others were served on trays. Later Mr. and Mrs. Davis left on a week's honeymoon that was to cover the eastern sea board. The bride's traveling suit was of green with brown accessories and she wore a corsage of button chrysanthemums and roses. On their return, their home is to be at Claverack, where Mr. Davis is employed. The bride's gift to her maid-of-honor was a white beaded evening bag and to the bridesmaids, rhinestone bracelets, to the flower bearer, a set of books. The groom's gifts to the best man and ushers were silver initialed buckles and silver tie and collar sets.

Miss Osterhout entertained the bridal party at River View Inn at dinner on the evening before the wedding. She had been tendered a shower recently by members of the Methodist Sunday School board at the home of Mr. Davis' sister, Mrs. George Wood. Attending the reception at the home were Poughkeepsie—Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lakowitz, Cornelia Wells, Mr. and Mrs. William H. The wedding marches were played by Elmer Fisher, who rendered a musical program before the ceremony.

Mission Circle Meeting.

Highland, Oct. 14.—The Mission Circle of the Presbyterian Church held its October meeting at the manse, where the devotion was conducted by Mrs. A. W. Leut, who had prepared the responses and hymns in observance of the 100th anniversary of the Foreign Mission Board. The program covering the lives of the Whitmans and Spaldings whose trip from Prattsburg in this state to the Columbia river in the state of Washington, covered a period of five months, and the women were the first white women to cross the Continental Divide. The trip was in the winter of 1836. Mrs. Eliza Raymond covered the activities of Dr. and Mrs. Marcus Whitman while Mr. Haynes gave an account of the Rev. and Mrs. Henry Harmon Spalding. Mrs. Fred Lewis Vail was appointed a delegate to the North River Presbyterian in Pine Plains on Thursday. Plans were made for the family night supper on October 29, when the congregations of Milton and Marlborough are asked to join the local church. A pageant will be produced, directed by Mrs. Haynes and Mrs. Lent and at 10 o'clock the message by Dr. Robert E. Speer will be heard. The hostess served tea and wafers.

Miss Merritt to Wed.

Highland, Oct. 14.—The marriage of Miss Barbara Elizabeth Merritt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Merritt, to John J. Batten, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Batten, of Marlborough, will take place on October 30, with only the immediate family being present. Miss Merritt graduated from the Highland High School and the Lasell Junior College at Andover, Mass. She took the secretarial position in the law office of John F. Wadlin and of her father in insurance. At present she is associated with her father. Miss Merritt was Red Cross chairman last year and is serving again this year. Residence will be in Highland following the marriage.

Brief Items

Highland, Oct. 14.—The Music Study Club will have its first program of classical French music on October 19 at the home of Mrs. Charles Taber in Milton, with Mrs. Oliver Kent assisting hostess. The music of Chamade-Gounod with Mrs. Howard Barton as program leader will be used.

Chapter A. P. E. O. Sister-Sisterhood, will hold a regular meeting at the home of Mrs. W. Platt on October 21. The president, Miss Olof Sundstrom, will preside.

Mrs. Nellie Fowler, Mrs. Mabel Cunningham and her daughter, Clara, and Mrs. Harry Elliott, returned Tuesday evening from a few days' trip to Philadelphia and Westchester, Pa.

Mrs. Julius W. Blakely with piano and Samuel Davis, violin, furnished the music for the chicken supper served in the Lloyd community house Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Collins and family, Charles Collins, Sr., and friends from Kingston drove to Sacandaga Lake on Sunday and two of the party were fortunate fishermen when they caught two pickerel.

Mrs. Katherine Wyncoop and her son, Frank Green of Syracuse, arrived Tuesday on a few days' visit with Mrs. Emily Decker and daughters.

Miss Alva Mackey of New York is spending this week with her cousin, Mrs. Edith Upright.

Mr. and Mrs. Loris E. Osterhout spent Tuesday in a drive over the new road into Ellenville where they lunched and returned over the Minnewaska Trail in time to attend the chicken supper at Lloyd.

There was not a large attendance at the meeting of Adonai Lodge, 718, F. & A. M., Monday evening. The district deputy will make his official visit on November 8 and on the 18th the members will attend a church service.

Mrs. Franklin Welker entertained Mr. and Mrs. George Randall and Miss Julia Van Keuren for bridge Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Dora Wilklow and Mrs. Emily Hasbrouck were substitute players for Mrs. John Lucas and Mrs. Joseph Mallor at the Tuesday bridge club at the home of Mrs. C. E. Baldwin.

MT. MARION.

Mr. Marion, Oct. 14.—Mr. Marion Home Bureau held a meeting on October 7, at the home of Mrs. John Branch, with seven members and two guests present. Mrs. George Adams taught the lesson on stitchery and many new and interesting stitches were learned. A social time was also enjoyed during which Miss Parsons, county agent of Kingston, stopped in to learn how the work was going and stayed for tea. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. George Young.

The Willing Workers Sunday School class held a meeting on Thursday to decide upon a cast for a new play to be put on by them.

The installation ceremonies for the Rev. Clayton Potter will be held on Friday evening, October 22, in the Plattekill Reformed Church. All members are urged to be present.

Dr. May Peabody will hold the first of her study groups in Mt. Marion at the school house on October 19, at 7:30 p. m. All teachers and persons in any of the surrounding communities who are interested are cordially invited to attend.

Miss Virginia Thorpe of Richmond Hill spent the holiday with Mr. and Mrs. Abram Bogert.

Mr. and Mrs. James Davis of Hurley attended church services at the Plattekill Reformed Church on Sunday.

Mrs. Edward Knight was given a stork shower at the home of Mrs. George Gillison on Friday evening. There were 22 present and Mrs. Knight received a great many lovely and useful gifts. Cake and punch was served and everyone enjoyed a social time.

Blind Man Passes Exams

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 15 (AP)—Blind for six years, Albert E. Gunther, 35, of Buffalo, today had passed five of eight examinations required for the study of law. The State Department of Education announced grades he made in examinations he took in September. English composition 90, American government 90, economics 87, German 80, and English and American literature 80.

Attempted Free Ride, Hurt

New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—David Ryan, 15, wanted to go downtown yesterday to hunt a job, but he lacked a nickel carfare. So he tried shinning up a pillar of the elevated station at 103rd street. Just a few feet short of the top, he slipped and fell to the street. Doctors said he may be injured internally.

Of course Americans are not taking sides in that Asiatic war, but there is considerable benevolent neutrality for a certain nation whose name is a word of five letters.

MEET THE CANDIDATES

A Series of Word Pictures of the Republican Candidates

George Schick, who has ably represented the Thirteenth ward in the board of supervisors for several terms, is again the Republican candidate for supervisor of that ward. Mr. Schick has been actively identified with the affairs of the Thirteenth ward during his entire lifetime. He was born in Wilbur, in the old Santa Claus Hotel, which was conducted by his father, Casper Schick.

When 14 years of age Mr. Schick began working for Spardie Brothers, papering barrels in the old James cement works in the town of Esopus. The following year he fixed barrels in the old Sherman & Weeks plants for George Turner, who then had the contract for all the cooper work. At the age of 15 years he entered the grocery store of the late Daniel H. Zoller. During his entire life he has displayed an attention to the detail and consideration of the wishes of others.

Mr. Schick has been closely identified with the social as well as the political life of the ward, and always has been ready to do his part in making for the entertainment of his neighbors, in which connection he has for a number of years acted as interlocutor for the Holy Name minstrel of Wilbur. He has been active in dramatic matters and for over a quarter of a century has been a member of Twaalfskill Hose Company. He is also a member of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Firemen's Association and the Loyal Order of Moose.

Five Dealers Found Short-Weighing

New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—William Fellows Morgan, Jr., commissioner of markets, listened to complaints that packing companies were selling boxed meat—crated pork loins and hams—at short weights, and sent out 50 agents to check up.

The agents, posing as customers, made 1,800 purchases yesterday. The result: Five of 200 dealers were short-weighing. They will be prosecuted.

FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

First Offender
Philadelphia — A policeman brought Max Weintraub, 19, before Magistrate Jacob Dogole. "The charge," said the officer, "is reckless driving on a power scooter and driving without lights."
"Case dismissed," said the magistrate, because Weintraub was the first motor scooter offender he'd ever seen.

Coincidence?
Storrs, Conn.—Music is supposed to be inspirational, but at Connecticut State College they're not so sure.
Connecticut State started back in 1935 to send its band along with the football team to away-from-home games. In the two seasons since then, Connecticut

State has lost all but one game on foreign soil.
This year, as usual, the band polished up and tuned up for the trip to Ansbach and the game with Massachusetts State. Arrangements fell through at the last minute and the band stayed home.
The score was Connecticut State 36, Massachusetts State 7.

Up in the Air
Colorado Springs—Miss Velmarie Sanders dreamed she was married in an airplane. She liked the idea, but Alfred Welch, her fiance, didn't.
They compromised and were married in the Will Rogers Shrine of the Sun, amid the clouds of Cheyenne Mountain.
More than 3,000,000 persons have viewed New York from the Empire State Tower.

Visit to India and China for Kiwanis

A graphic account of a visit to India and China, two countries visited on a round the world cruise, entertained and informed members of the Kiwanis Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel Thursday noon, the narrator being Prof. Esther A. Bensley, head of the art department of the New Paltz Normal School. Added to the word picture were a number of slides, some in natural color, which added greatly to the account of the trip.

The speaker began with a voyage across the Indian Ocean, where "half way across the mystery of India seemed to fill the air," and she took her listeners to the first port of call, Bombay. Here she described the fine railroad coaches and the extremely poor roadbed for the rails which furnished transportation into the interior northeastward to Jay-poor, eastward to Benares and Calcutta, and then directly westward back to Bombay, a triangle covering about 3,000 miles of the interior of the country. The slides mirrored the natives, customs and particularly the beautiful buildings, with special emphasis on the Taj Mahal, said to be the most beautiful building in the world.

The speaker had taken a number of pictures of this structure from a variety of angles. Completing this structure, the interior of China was the next scene of adventure. Here Prof. Bensley visited for a time with a medical missionary friend and his wife and brought back numerous pictures of native Chinese life, and scenery. The lack of American methods of modernized industry and agriculture was evident in the pictures, and the lecture and slides furnished a vivid picture of "how the other half lives."

The speaker was introduced by Harry Halverson, of the program committee. Music was led by Paul Zucca, accompanied at the piano by Danny Blittner. The meeting was in charge of President William Byrne.

8th Ward Club Meets Tonight

The first meeting of the Eighth Ward Republican Club will be held this evening in the rooms on McEntee street when prominent speakers will discuss the present political campaign. As this is the first meeting of the club it is expected that there will be a large attendance.

Accomplishments Dr Promises Says Mayor At Rally

carried out the pledge of the Republican party to render service and at a lower cost to the taxpayer. At the end of the term we pledged to carry the good work along the same line and again have carried out the pledge to the letter.

Our government's job today is to furnish police, traffic, fire protection, an abundant supply of pure water, clean and well lighted streets, and sanitary sewers; to protect and improve public parks, playgrounds and recreational opportunities; educational facilities, and the administration of home relief, old age pension, hospitalization for the disabled, support of homeless and dependent children, and care of the aged. These are some of the principal duties imposed on the officials by the city charter.

Our conception of our responsibilities—unwritten as they may be—goes even beyond this broad important field. I have felt it my duty, in the absence of any duly constituted agency, to foster the help and assistance of public spirited citizens, the industrial development of our city, improve its trade and commerce.

Realizing that the physical well-being of our youth depends on proper recreation, I have attempted to encourage the various sports which make for strong bodies, clean and generous minds. Bowling, baseball, basketball, football and boxing are among the major sports which have been helped.

Realizing, also, that the well-being of the individual demands more than material security and physical health, I have by written and spoken word urged the adherence to and support of those many splendid local organizations and institutions dedicated to building the character of youth, upholding the principles of Americanism, and teaching the lessons of morality, piety and good citizenship.

After all, these things are vital and necessary to community happiness and development. From these interests I have, in moments of weariness, drawn refreshment and inspiration to continue to strive for higher and better things for our city.

Record An Open Book

Our record of accomplishment—our philosophy of government—is an open book. You have been observing it and experiencing its effect now for nearly four years. You should be familiar with it. I can imagine what thoughts are going through your minds, in preparation for the important decision which you must make on Election Day.

You are probably asking yourself some questions like these:

Is your mayor honest, trustworthy?

Is your mayor industrious and hard-working, and always on the job?

Does your mayor take his job seriously and has he responded to all the demands made upon him for causes which are for the welfare of the people?

Does the record show that your mayor has the judgment and capacity to arrive at correct conclusions, and the courage to put these conclusions into operation?

Has your mayor the necessary financial experience to continue to steer the municipal ship safely through the stormy waters of trouble and distress?

Regardless of the experience of your mayor as a public administrator and his record of better government at less cost, is your mayor sympathetic and humane? Has he shown a deep interest in the welfare of children and youth, of babies and mothers, of those unemployed and in trouble and distress?

Is your mayor interested in industrial and commercial growth of our city, and in the cultural and religious development of our people?

Answers to all these questions you will find in the record of the past four years. Arriving at the correct answers, it will be just and proper for you to ask yourself this question:

Will Kingston be better off if the mayor is re-elected or if another is elected in his place?

So far as I am concerned, I am glad to give my future into the hands of the people of Kingston for them to decide.

I have heard nothing recently about my opponent's lost planks. From what I can hear, it would appear that they have been badly splintered and have floated away. No man could stand long or firmly on a platform made of such flimsy material.

The judge should have a platform like ours. It's made from the brick of lower taxes, cemented together with a record of improved and enlarged service to the public, and reinforced with steel hardened by the fire of experience and proved accomplishment.

As a lawyer, the city judge knows that on the brief he has submitted to the voters of this city he has a case weaker than dish-water. No evidence has been submitted to the jury which would warrant a decision on the part of the voters of Kingston—to give me my walking papers and turn my job over to him.

The only allegation or criticism of the city government which the judge has made is that the new intermediate school and vocational training school are inadequate. As neighbors and friends, we have had many pleasant chats together, so I can certify to the world that the judge is not tongue-tied. Yet he never peeped when the school matter was being publicly considered.

The judge, since nominated, has claimed that the proposed new intermediate and vocational training schools are inadequate. The local Board of Education, and the State Department of Education, are the legally authorized and constituted bodies to determine the adequacy and fitness of schools and school plans.

Both of these authorized bodies have examined and approved the adopted school plan and put their stamp of approval on it.

I believe that when they tell me the proposed school plan will entirely and satisfactorily solve our school problem.

If the judge chooses not to believe them, that's too bad. I advise him to register his complaint with the proper authorities, although he knows he is months too late.

The corporation counsel informed me that the deeds to the sites for the new schools and for the municipal stadium were delivered to him and were this afternoon filed in the county clerk's office.

The attitude of my opponent, the judge, in waiting until this late to discuss the school problem leads me—and others—to believe that he really has no very definite convictions about schools but is simply dragging the time-worn old political red herring across the trail of our accomplishments in an attempt to throw the voters of the city.

This attitude on the part of the judge seems to indicate that this modern Rip Van Winkle has not yet waked up to the implications of the present campaign and what the voters today are interested in—more and better public service at a reasonable tax rate—and with safety to the credit of the city.

The judge should rouse himself and learn the story of how the problems which faced us during the past four years were solved and how the obstacles were overcome.

SERVICES ANNOUNCED AT TEMPLE EMANUEL

This evening at 7:45 o'clock services will be held in Temple Emanuel. Rabbi Bloom will preach on "The Spirit's Adventure." The public is cordially invited.

On Sunday morning, the Hebrew and Religious School will take place between the hours of 9 and 12.

On Monday evening, October 18, the Zionist organization of Kingston, will hold its meeting at Temple Emanuel Social Hall, at 8 o'clock.

On Tuesday the Adult Class in Hebrew and Jewish Biography will take place at Rabbi Bloom's residence from 8 to 10 p. m.

On Thursday, the Talmidim will meet.

The Sisterhood of Temple Emanuel will give its annual dinner on Wednesday, October 20, at the social hall of the temple. The dinner will take place from 5:30 until all are served.

Queen Wilhelmina of Holland asks her Parliament for a stronger defense force, and we suppose the Dutch are going to take Holland again.

Unusual Auto-Plane
In Kingston Tuesday

Freeman Photos

Tuesday afternoon A. O. Steudling, of the Studebaker Sales and Service of Kingston, was surprised when an unexpected visitor dropped from the sky, to visit the local dealer, in a new Waterman Arrowbile, which Mr. Phillips is demonstrating along the eastern seaboard.

The Arrowbile is a combination airplane and automobile, 19 feet long, with wing span of 38 feet, and powered by a Studebaker Commander six cylinder 100-horsepower motor. In the air it has a top speed of 120 m. p. h. and a cruising range of 400 miles. On the road a speed of 20 m. p. h. can be obtained.

The wings, which are fastened by a safety device in the cabin,

Coats to Fit and Flatter
Young Fashionables!

All the dash and vim of this brave young world is captured in the lines of these coats . . . all the new ways of keeping warm and looking lovely are built right into them. Here is a fine star collection from the workrooms of the leading coatmakers . . . fine rich fabrics, chosen for beauty and wearability, smart authentic styles at home in the finest surroundings, correct in every detail . . . and each is as far as we know, an unusual value.

can be easily detached in three minutes.

This new contraption has two sets of controls, one for flight and one for driving. When on the road it is operated in much the same fashion as the old model 'T' Ford, with the different speeds on the clutch.

As Mr. Phillips flew over the Kingston Airport on the Sawkill road, previous to his landing, Paul Swanson, manager of the local field, reached for his shotgun "for it looked more like an enormous hawk than a plane," he said.

"Having flown the Arrowbile 5,000 miles and driven it 200 miles I can say that it is practically foolproof," said the demonstrator. "In the air she almost flies herself since it will regain an even keel from any position. If the controls are released, a practical demonstration was given when Mr. Phillips detached the wings and motored in the vehicle to New York city, where the Arrowbile will be on exhibit at the International Automobile Show.

Proof of the airplane's safety is shown in the fact that it is the only ship of this type to be accepted by the Department of Commerce.

Irene Bordoni was born on the island of Corsica.

K. of C. Attend Mass on Sunday

Sunday, October 17, 1937, will undoubtedly be one of the most interesting days in many years for the Kingston Knights.

At 8 o'clock in the morning at St. Mary's Church, Father Benjamin C. Roth, chaplain of the council, will celebrate Mass at which the entire membership of the local organization will receive Holy Communion.

Grand Knight Joseph J. Murphy feels certain from present indications that the church will be crowded to capacity with the local brothers who are desirous of starting the day with the reception of Holy Communion.

For the benefit of a number of candidates who have not as yet received the honors of the first and second degrees, an opportunity will be given them to have these degrees conferred at 10 o'clock Sunday morning.

At 2:30 p. m., the major degree of the order will attract the attention of Knights of Columbus from far and wide. The lecturer, Jose A. Alvarez, is preparing for one of the largest crowds ever to assemble at the club house for such an event.

The Knights will converge at St. Mary's School at 7:50 a. m., and march in procession from the school to the church.

GARDINER

Gardiner, Oct. 13.—Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Osterhoudt, of Scotia, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Osterhoudt at their summer cottage near Ganahogote.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Crispell, who have been spending the summer at Pocono Manor, spent a few days of last week with Mr. Crispell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eltinge Crispell.

Miss Marie DeYoe, of Stamford, Conn., spent the week-end with her sister, Mrs. Grace Marks.

Mrs. Floyd Harcourt, and daughter, Shelle, of Modena, were guests of Mrs. Richard Hoffman on Tuesday.

Miss Fannie Dobbs, of Nutley, N. J., is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Hoffman.

Mrs. Thomas Butler and Mrs. Charles DuBois called on friends in New Paltz on Thursday.

IT'S ODD But It's Science

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor

Pasadena, Cal.—It appears that science won't be able to grow giants, either plant or animal, until they discover one of nature's greatest unknowns—the "limiting factor."

This means the force or condition that limits growth. New examples of this limit are reported in the proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences by James Bonner and Grace Axman of the California Institute of Technology. They removed the embryonic plants from the seeds of perfection peas. The tiny plants were then made to grow in sterile solutions, distilled water mixed with salts.

Vitamin B (one), which helps in the growth of humans, also speeded the growth of these pea plants when added to their food. Another of man's life essentials, vitamin C, also made the peas grow bigger.

Two other chemicals had similar growing powers. One was folliculin, an essential of the sex cycle of women. Another was pantothenic acid, a new discovery.

But adding all of these together did nothing more toward growth than one of them alone. Nature seemed to be able to get "enough" with any one, and after that there was no effect. No clue was found to the "limiting factor," which stopped these perfection peas after they had reached "normal" size.

end with relatives in New York city.

James Moran, who is teaching at Fort Jefferson, spent the week-end and holiday at his home here.

Miss Dorothy DuBois and friends, of New York city, visited friends here on Saturday.

Among those who attended the Danbury fair last week were: Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Williamson and

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Wells; Mr. and Mrs. Ransom Freer, daughter Evelyn, and son, Ransom, and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Dushinberg; Mrs. A. D. McKinstry and Mrs. Christine Tschirkey.

Mr. and Mrs. David Weise, and son, David, and Mrs. Anna Bevier, spent the week-end on a motor trip to Lake George. Mr. Weise, who is the rural mail carrier, was relieved by Floyd McKinstry during his vacation.

Miss Mary Tubbs, who is teaching at Castleton, spent the week-end at her home here.

Mrs. Abram Dero, Mrs. Leo Clinton and Miss Carrie Scrivens were dinner guests of Miss Anna Clinton on Wednesday.

Miss Carolyn Jayne spent the week-end and holiday with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Jayne of Lake Mohonk.

Miss Elizabeth Dero spent Monday in Poughkeepsie.

Trooper Kenneth Hoffman of Long Island spent a few days of last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hoffman.

Mrs. L. Klyne spent a few days of last week with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Vandemark of Cornwall.

The Misses Nellie and Belle Edwards of Montour Falls spent the week-end with their aunt, Mrs. Gussie Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hoffman of Walden were Sunday guests of Mr. Hoffman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hoffman.

Roy Smith of Sheephead Bay spent part of last week at his home here.

The services at the Reformed Church on next Sunday morning will be in charge of Mrs. Krause, a senior student of the New Brunswick Theological Seminary.

A game party will be held by the Reformed Church School at the church hall on Wednesday evening, October 27.

(The Moss Feature Syndicate, Greensboro, N. C.)

It's a wise storekeeper who knows what will not sell. An artist who was spending a holiday in a small village entered the store and asked if they carried camel hair brushes.

"No sir, we don't," the shopkeeper replied. "You see, sir," he added, apologetically, "we never have no call for 'em. Nobody in these parts seems to keep camels."

In a mad desire to cut down expenses, a man will take his wife to a $1.50 dinner and stay away from a $2 dinner, entirely forgetting that in either event his wife will spend $2 to have her hair fixed on the day of the occasion.

Neighbor—What makes you look at me like that, young man?

Junior—I thought you were in the hospital.

Neighbor—What ever gave you that idea?

Junior—I heard Daddy tell Mummy that you had been shooting off your mouth again.

One of the nicest things about living in a small town is that people drop in to see you even when they don't want anything.

A Dad wrote to his son at college—I'm sending you the $10 in addition to your regular allowance as you requested in your last letter; but I must again draw attention to your incorrect spelling; "10" is written with one nought, not two.

Mr. Y—Doesn't it annoy you that the Scotch family living in the flat above you dance every night?

Mrs. Z—Oh no, when we want to stop them we turn off the radio.

Woman Customer—Do you return the money when an article isn't satisfactory?

Merchant—That depends on the article.

Customer—This is a book.

Merchant—What was wrong with it?

Customer—I didn't like the way it ended.

Statistics show that more men embezzle money in order to gamble and drink than for any other reason. . . . And most women who get touchy fingers do so because they live beyond their means.

Teacher—Now, Johnny, can you name a cape in Alaska?

Johnny—No'm.

Teacher—That's right! None. Good for you! Next!

Another way to make home happy is to say nothing about the spots that get on the tablecloth. They will always wash out, while the memory of unkind words sometimes won't.

Crawford—So you can't understand why your boy in college flunked in all the foreign languages?

Cue—No, it's a mystery to me. He picked up all the college yells in a time.

Friend—Tell me, sir. Who was braver than Lancelot, wiser than Socrates, more honest than Lincoln, wittier than Mark Twain, and more handsome than Apollo?

Man—My wife's first husband.

Wife (trying on new fall hats)—Do you like this one turned down?

Hubby—How much is it?

Wife—Twelve dollars.

Hubby—Yes, turn it down.

Plumber (arriving late)—Well, how is it?

Happy Husband—Not so bad, while we were waiting for you I taught my wife to swim.

At Reade TheatreMARY PATTON

Included in the cast of "You Can't Take It With You" is Mary Patton, personable young actress who will come to Reade's Kingston Theatre with the play when it is presented on the stage of the uptown play house, Monday, October 23.

The road cast of this 1937 Pulitzer prize play, the work of Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman, is the equal in every way to three others playing large circuits. Sam H. Harris, the producer insists and points to his reputation of always casting his companies with the best players, and equipping them with the finest productions.

Others playing in the story of the madcap Sycamore family are: George Henry Truitt, former Broadway star as Grandma Vanderhoff, and will include Mary Patton, Elvira Harvey, Walter Beck, Adrienne Lurie, Paul E. Burns, Donald Sharpe, Rene Robert, Alan Hulse, William Jeffrey, Elsie Baker, Morris McKinney, Musa Williams, Dulcie Cooper, Dagmar Kurling and Robert Perry.

At The Theatres
REVIEWED

Today
Broadway. "Big City." Two of the screen's finest artists work to no special purpose in the Broadway offering and their talents are pretty much wasted in a story that possesses neither inspiration nor situation that might be classed as worthy of the dramatic skill of two really brilliant players. As it is, Spencer Tracy and Loretta Young follow a routine path through all the hardships of a poor young couple in love in New York City with its tragedies, its pitfalls, its treacheries and its little moments of brightness. A capable supporting cast includes Charles Grapewin, Victor Varconi, Eddie Quillan and Janet Beecher. Frank Borzage directed.

Kingston. "Make a Wish." Another juvenile songster parades his talents before the screen microphones in this story of a little boy who sings his way into the hearts of some pretty tough people. Little Bobby Breen, whose high pitched voice is both unusual and arresting, is the star of the performance and he is supported by Basil Rathbone, Henry Armetta, Marion Claire, Ralph Forbes, Leon Errol and Donald Meek. The songs in this one are more enjoyable than the ones in Mr. Breen's last effort and by and large, the show will appeal to music lovers everywhere.

Orpheum. "Land Beyond the Law" and "Holy Terror." The singing Dick Foran runs into desperate danger and love in the first of the Orpheum offerings and the play is exciting and filled with roaring action all the way except for the few times Mr. Foran takes time out to sing a song or two.

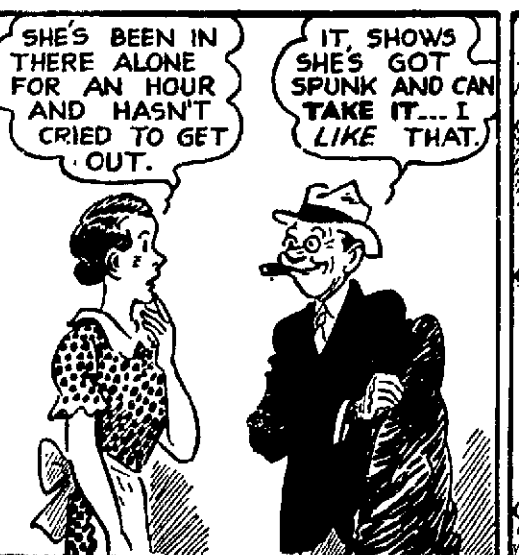

"Holy Terror" is the other attraction, a comedy riot with little Jane Withers at her devastating best.

Tomorrow
Broadway. "Life Begins at College." With the rough and ready Ritz Brothers costarring in another motion picture treatment on college, this show is a satirical, wildly humorous and tuneful exposition that runs the gamut of laughter and madness before its ending. Those who have found the Ritz Brothers to be just about the funniest comedians on the screen will not be disappointed in this showing effort. The plot is a crazy-quilt story of college with a little bit of everything thrown in for good measure. It is essentially a musical comedy and featured in the large cast are such names as Gloria Stuart, Tony Martin, Joan Davis, Fred Stone, Nat Pendleton, Joan Marsh, Dixie Dunbar and Ed Thorgeron. William A. Selter directed this 20th Century-Fox presentation.

New Zealand breaks the rule that glaciers usually stop near the lower limits of perpetual snow, above the timber line. Some of its rivers of ice wind over wooded slopes to end only among tree ferns and other sub-tropical vegetation. Fox glacier reaches down to 670 feet above sea level. Its surface is rough with patches of rock debris and with the sharp ridges of great crevasses.

Kipling's Autographs
The late Rudyard Kipling once was asked by his grocer to pay his bills by check. Mr. Kipling did so, then noticed the checks never came back from the bank. He investigated, found the butcher was selling the checks as autographs. Since the author rarely autographed anything, his name on a check was worth more than the check itself!

HEM AND AMY

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS*By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—One thing about previewing is that it takes hours to get moments. These new films had many moments.

"Ebb Tide" is a gorgeously beautiful color production with sea and island setting. It has splendid characterizations by Barry Fitzgerald and Oscar Homolka, it has Frances Farmer, Ray Milland and Lloyd Nolan, all competent, and—because its plot has the bonds, right in the middle—it is a double feature, two distinct stories in one film. Beginning as a psychological study of a disgraced sea captain (Homolka) whose weakness is drink and who cannot bear to admit that a beloved daughter is really dead, the film becomes a strictly adventure piece—and pretty hokey—in its latter stages.

The typhoon sequence, really the climax, comes in the middle—but for that, and for Fitzgerald especially, the picture is decidedly worth seeing. Homolka, whose mobile face makes him a master of pantomime, suffers with the film for its double-feature aspects. The color, incidentally, is of a quality to invite diving from your seat into the breakers on the screen.

Deal At His Best

There is a splendid climax, too, but properly placed, in our old friend "Madame X," played with distinction by our new friend, Gladys George. Ponderous and stiff at first, the film takes on somber reality as Miss George delineates the step-by-step fall of a lady. Shifting scenes lend color, and the lady's progress toward haggishness is excellently portrayed. The courtroom scene, with John Deal at his best as the son defending his own mother unbeknownst to him, reaches a frenzy of emotional appeal that should leave the women patrons bawling in the aisles. Warren William, Reginald Owen, Henry Daniell, and Lure Albert, have other major roles. Sam Wood directed.

Joan Crawford's Latest

"The Bride Wore Red" is polliwuff stuff about a girl who can't make up her mind whether to marry wealth and be a lady or marry a peasant and be happy. That she finally decides to take on the peasant is no surprise to anyone. Joan Crawford is the guttersnipe who too quickly becomes lady-like. Robert Young is the rich one and Franchot Tone is the soft-hearted peasant. It was adapted from the Molnar play and directed by Dorothy Arzner.

Scout Finance Rally-Dinner at Y.M.C.A. Tonight

Everything is in readiness for the opening of the annual Boy Scout finance campaign this evening with a rally meeting and dinner in the Y. M. C. A. hall at 6:25 o'clock.

All workers, captains, and division leaders will be present and the rally will be in charge of chairman E. A. Freer and his associates.

Immediately after the dinner chairman Freer will call the meeting to order and Mayor Heiseleman will make the opening address and start the workers out.

Each worker will select his own district and be ready to start his task of calling on all prospects within the next six days.

Mayor Heiseleman said today in commenting upon the Scout work which he always has shown a genuine interest: "May I congratulate the Boy Scout Council of Ulster and Greene counties on the successful manner in which they carried forward their program through the depression years when people's spirits were not always high, and when youth needed the inspiration and assurance of that real Americanism provided by the Boy Scout program."

Millions of boys have been afforded pleasure and adventure through the comprehensive Scout program, while at the same time being taught camping, swimming, and first aid. That this training has stood the Scouts in good stead, is evidenced by the many lives the Scouts have saved and the relief they bring to the suffering in every great disaster.

In this training and character building program, the Ulster-Greene Council has always been on a par with the finest councils in the United States, and their scoutmasters and leaders are to be highly congratulated.

Scouting offers unusual opportunities for service. There is need for leaders and there is need for generous contributions on the part of all citizens to your 1937 financial campaign, that the local council may have adequate funds to carry on their splendid program which is helping the boys of today to become the substantial citizens of tomorrow."

Reports continue to come in from outside territory and the following additional reports have come in: Tannersville in the Mountain District report $200.00 raised to date; Saugerties second report shows they have raised $560.00; Woodstock reports $22.00; Marlborough reports $60.00 toward their goal of $100.00; Milton reports $45.00 toward their goal of $50.00; Ashland reports $15.00 toward their goal of $25.00; Pine Hill is the first town of the Western District to complete their goal, having raised $61.50 and their goal was $50.00.

In the Kingston section additional workers are reported as follows:

Team No. 7—William Mellert, captain; S. J. Messinger, D. Ellis, Pearl Carey, Paul Zucca.

Team No. 13—A. N. Cook, captain; John Egan, Joseph McCann, Joseph Morgan.

Team No. 14—Roger Baer, captain.

R. F. Overbagh, president of the Ulster-Greene Council, expects to be present at this evening's meeting with a word of greeting. The Rev. C. E. Brown will give the invocation.

First Lamp Patent in 1798

In 1798 the first lamp patent was issued to John Love, of South Carolina, for a tall lamp. The earliest patented lamp known is the nursery lamp made by William Howe, of Boston, dated 1812. The second earliest example appeared nearly two decades later, in 1831, and the patent was issued to John W. Schulz and William Trull. Between the granting of these two patents twenty others had been issued.

Fifty-four per cent of Berlin's population are women.

Narcissus Is Favorite Indoor Bloom

Paper-White Narcissus.

The season of gardening for flat dwellers is at hand. Paper-white narcissi, Chinese lilies, hyacinths, and daffodils, which are easily brought into flower indoors, are all obtainable. During the winter, flowers may be grown from bulbs with little trouble.

Paper-white narcissi will come to flower in six weeks if the bulbs are placed in a shallow bowl with gravel to hold them upright and the bowl is kept full of water. Hyacinths will flower if placed in glasses full of water so modeled that a shoulder holds the bulb at top of the glass, while ample space is left below for roots to develop.

NOW IS THE TIME TO CHECK SHADE TREES

"Autumn is a good time of the year to have shade and ornamental trees checked for defects," says Dr. Ray R. Hirt of the New York State College of Forestry at Syracuse, N. Y.

"The property owner still has memories of the beauty his trees have afforded all summer, and he also recalls any evidences of illness which may have decreased their good appearance. Trees respond just as definitely to proper care as do household pets, although somewhat more slowly.

"Autumn is a better time to prune trees than in the spring when the sap is flowing rapidly. The fall season is also proper for the treatment of mechanical injuries in order to protect them from decay fungi which may become established in the exposed wood during the warm autumn rains or wet weather of the early spring. Proper growth stimulants may be applied at this time so as to be available when growth begins the following season. If trees have weak branches, and are in need of support, it is well to have them cared for before the snow and ice of winter split the branches away from the trunk," says Dr. Hirt.

"Shade and ornamental trees are of great value aesthetically to the property owner, and are deserving of the attention and care of men skilled in the treatment of tree diseases. Before the property owner permits any work to be done on his trees, he should consult a competent tree diagnostician who will prescribe the treatment and who is often willing to supervise the work.

"Proper diagnosis of tree troubles can only be made by those thoroughly trained in the structure and physiology of trees and in the recognition of their insect and fungous enemies. The ordinary tree mechanic, although skilled in the mechanics of tree repair, can only guess at the trouble and quite often may guess entirely wrong," warns Dr. Hirt. "Thus, if your trees need attention this autumn, seek the services of a reliable tree diagnostician and not those of the itinerant tree mechanic, and if the work is of such a nature that it can be done now, do not wait until spring when, in all probability, the need will be forgotten."

Early Blooms for Rockery

The early flowering bulbs which are sometimes termed "the minor bulbs" are excellent subjects for planting in the rock garden.

They are precious because they come first in the spring, when they have no competition. With their dwarf size and tiny flowers they would not attract much attention in the June border, but in March or April they give us a thrill.

They adjust themselves to the small patches of soil available in a rock garden and their delicate beauty is set off to advantage by the background of a rock. As hardy as oaks, and as dependable as anything that grows, there is none of the uncertainty about their spring performance, as that which so often attends more difficult rockery subjects.

Snowdrops often will bloom before the last snows of the season have melted, and a few dozen planted in small groups may provide the first bloom of the season. Scillas come soon after, with lovely flowers, carpeting the area in

GLORIOUS GLADIOLUS—RIVALS QUEEN OF AUTUMN

There is a period in early fall in which the floral kingdom does homage for awhile to two rival queens, the gladiolus, queen of summer flowers, and the chrysanthemum, queen of autumn.

So long as killing frosts are absent, gladioli will be plentiful; and the cooler nights seem to increase the brilliance of their coloring. As plant breeders have improved both form and color in the new varieties of this flower, it has become increasingly useful for room and costume decoration. It provides the most gorgeous range of color of all flowers at this season and is also one of the easiest to use. Other flowers are not necessary in a glad arrangement, and a child could arrange their graceful spikes so they look well.

Because they are such large flowers, we should be careful of where we place them. They cannot be used for a centerpiece, or atop a mantelpiece or upright piano, but they will look ravishing on a low table or a grand piano, or any situation where they have room to spread out.

They are long lasting blooms if given reasonable care. The florist usually cuts them when only the lowest blossom is open, so that if you will give them plenty of water, and pluck off the forets as they wilt, you will find new buds always opening—beginning with the lowest one and continuing up the spike to the top. As lower flowers are removed, cut the spike, and reduce its height. It is best to do this under water, so as to force as much moisture into the flower's veins as possible.

Gladiolus

Gladiolus are being used more for corsages than ever before. They are economical for this purpose as you will find, but more important is their vast range of flat-topped colors—one at least to fit any possible combination of fabric and color you could imagine.

If you are giving a gay party, or going to one, make "glads" a part of it; they are gay flowers, as cheering as a fire in the fireplace on a cold winter day. Get your fill of them in now; it will not be long before flowers must be grown indoors, and the real to heat greenhouses is going to boost their share in your budget.

BLIND BOWLER DRAWS CHEERS FOR PROWESS

San Francisco, Oct. 15 (AP)—George McDonald, bowler extraordinary, squinted down the alley, loosed off at the foul line and spun the big ball into the wooden pins. It wasn't a strike; No. 10 pin survived the shock. But the lone sentinel went down on the next throw.

Applause greeted McDonald's feat. And it was a feat because this 40-year-old bowler is totally blind.

In one and one-half months, McDonald has become San Francisco's most remarkable bowler. For 25 years he has been sightless.

September 1, McDonald bowled his first game after acquiring a mental picture of the alley.

tion this autumn, seek the services of a reliable tree diagnostician and not those of the itinerant tree mechanic, and if the work is of such a nature that it can be done now, do not wait until spring when, in all probability, the need will be forgotten."

which they have become established, and spreading each year in locations which they like.

Crocuses look much better in the rockery than they do in the lawn or border. Their lovely blue and yellow blossoms seem large, beside the other spring flowers. The miniature daffodils seem made for the rockery, in fact they are lost in any other location.

Species tulips, the native kinds, bloom very early, some with the daffodils, and they have the characteristic irregular growth of wild things, which fits the rock garden environment so well. They give both soft and vivid colorings, and strange and exciting shapes, if you like such effects.

All these bulbs are easy to grow; failure is rare provided they are planted at the proper depth, in well drained locations. After flowering they should be left untouched until their foliage has turned yellow; and may be left several years without lifting. By planting with them perennials which will grow to hide their fading foliage, the appearance of the garden will be maintained.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION

School No. 8

The regular meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of School No. 8 was held Wednesday evening, October 13, at 7:30 o'clock.

The speaker of the evening was Arthur Russell, principal of No. 2. He gave a very interesting and instructive talk on "Indian Relics." His extensive collection consisted of instruments used by the Indians of this neighborhood. He described the different cuts and shapes of the stones telling how they were made and their uses.

The solos rendered by Robert Hawksley were, "Love Never Fails," a favorite selection often read by the late Dr. Michael at Kingston Academy, and also "Tommy Lad," one of the few father's lullabies.

November 19 movies will be shown at the school in connection with a food sale in order to raise the year's finances. Delicious refreshments were served.

The attendance banner was won by the pupils of the Misses Finn, Nash, Castello and Mrs. Meyer's rooms. Before the meeting many fathers and mothers viewed the hobby exhibits of the pupils. Among the many visitors were the three acting judges, Principal Meacher of School 5, Principal Van Valkenburgh of School 4, Principal Boyd of School 1, also Superintendent B. C. Van Ingen, Principal Ratcliff of School 3, and Principal Miner of School 6. Over 200 hundred people were present at the exhibit.

The pupils having the best exhibit from each room received the numeral 8, which may be worn on a sweater. Red ribbon awards were given as second prize to each room. The winners are as follows: First prize, Room 1, Phyllis Cornwell; Room 2, John Klonowski; Room 3, James Davies; Room 4, Miriam McGrath; Room 5, Catherine Berinato; Room 6, Lila May Low; Room 7, Richard Reynolds; Room 8, John Krueger; Room 9, Amylou Millonig; Room 10, Thomas Reynolds; Room 11, Irene Kottrady; Room 12, Bud Pomeroy; Room 13, John Port; Room 14, Shirley Phillips.

The second prizes were won by Room 1, Joseph Parkes; Room 2, Dorothy Ligat; Room 3, William Lounsbury; Room 4, Joe Edwards; Room 5, June Ellsworth; Room 6, Evelyn Day; Room 7, Shirley Townsend; Room 8, Bertland Burr; Room 9, Rose Mantone; Room 10, Francis Fatum; Room 11, Roberta Tranker; Room 12, Sally Castle; Room 13, Roselynn Kottrady; Room 14, Alice Harvey.

High School

The High School Parent-Teacher Association will hold a meeting Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium. The president, Mrs. Arthur Windham, will preside. C. L. Dumont, chairman of the program committee, has arranged an interesting and instructive program which will be based on this year's theme, "Health as a foundation for a child's program." The public is cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Roosevelt Works On Legislation

Hyde Park, N. Y., Oct. 15 (AP)—With convening of Congress in extra session only a month away, President Roosevelt continued today to devote most of his time to preparation of his legislative program.

Mr. Roosevelt has made no engagements here with congressional leaders and officials said it was unlikely he would confer with them until he returns to Washington next week.

One of his pre-luncheon callers was James P. Maher, New York

business man. The object of his call was not announced. The President's only visitor yesterday was T. D. Pattullo, Premier of British Columbia, who came up from New York city late to have tea at the temporary White House.

All Luck Followed Ship

The Great Eastern or Leviathan, as she was originally called, the English steamer, built in 1875, at the time the largest steamship afloat, encountered nothing but ill luck from the time she was launched, commercially a great failure. When broken up in 1888, the cause of her bad luck, according to sailor superstition, came to light in the discovery of a human skeleton wedged between her inner and outer skins.

Hunleth Family in Religious Orders

The following article, which appeared in the St. Louis Post Dispatch, will be of interest to the many relatives and friends of the Hunleth family who reside in this vicinity.

It is impossible for Frank J. Hunleth, 516 Locust street, to keep an exact count of the members of his extensive family connections who have joined religious orders. There are probably more than 20 of them at the present time. It is a big family.

Six of his 11 children are religious. Five of his seven daughters are members of the Loretto Order and one of his four sons. He is a member of the Society of Jesus. Hunleth and his three other sons are associated in the music company which they took over in 1910.

The musical background of the family is serving well the daughters who have entered the convent. Sister M. Josephine, the youngest of the daughters, who teaches music at Webster College, is an accomplished violinist. Each summer she studies under a violinist at the Chicago Musical College where she is working for her master's degree.

Her brothers, who are all musicians, know before she entered the convent, they recall, she was accustomed to practicing eight hours daily when taking lessons in harmony, organ and violin.

Sister Sophie Marie, who teaches music at Loretto Academy, 167 Lafayette avenue, is a musician of distinction, having studied under Rudolph Ganz and Ludwig, and has her master's degree. For many years she taught at the Loretto Heights Academy in Denver. Sister Mary Elizabeth, who also teaches at Loretto Academy, spent 11 years behind the counter in the music store before entering the convent, and she was known throughout the country for her familiarity with orchestra and theatre music. In fact, she received a number of flattering offers to join the sales forces of large music companies in the East.

Sister M. Vera teaches music in a school conducted by the order in Santa Fe, N. M., where Sister M. Frances is also assigned. She teaches chemistry there.

The Rev. Francis C. Hunleth, S. J., is now stationed at Campion College at Prairie du Chien, Wis., and it may be added he has direction of the school band. He is also taught at St. Louis University and at Jesuit schools in Denver.

The oldest religious of the family is Sister Lauretana, a member of the Sisters of Christian Charity of East St. Louis, who celebrated her golden anniversary in the order recently. She is a sister of the late Mrs. Hunleth, who died about 18 months ago.

Mrs. Hunleth's side of the family has contributed its share regularly to swell the numbers. Three of the daughters of her sister, Mrs. Kate Meehan, have entered the Order of the Precious Blood. They are Sisters Mary Plus, Josephine and Anella.

A fourth daughter, Mrs. Agnes Stenler, has had two daughters join the same order. Sister Mary Albert is a teacher at St. George's School at Gardenville, Mo., and the other one is still a novice.

Their uncle, the Rev. Stenler, is a priest in the Passionist Order. Sister Louise, the daughter of another of Mrs. Hunleth's sisters, Mrs. Louise Wolf, is in the Convent of the Precious Blood at St. Peters, Mo. In the same order at Quincy, Ill. is the daughter of her brother, Joe Schilly. One of the Schilly's sons is at the priesthood at Kenrick Seminary.

Of his own nieces and grandnieces, Hunleth finds many of them in convents. There are the two daughters of his sister, Mrs. Mary Cates, who became Sisters of Christian Charity. Sister Gottarda is in the Holy Family Convent in Danville, Ill., and Sister Ina, who for 15 years had charge of the boys at Vincent's Orphanage, is now in Westphalia, Mich. Sister Ann Catherine, a grandniece, of the Notre Dame Order, is teaching at St. Peter and Paul Convent.

Only Dickens Statue
A statue of Charles Dickens and Little Nell, one of his famous characters, is in Clark park, at Forty-third street and Baltimore avenue, in West Philadelphia. It is the only one ever made of the novelist, says a writer in the Philadelphia Inquirer, because his son discovered a clause in his will asking "never on any account to make me the subject of any monument, memorial or testimonial whatever." The work is by F. Edwin Elwell. It was exhibited at the World's Columbian exposition, where it received a gold medal.

OIL HEAT for Winter Comfort

WHEN YOU HEAT with oil, you put an end to the troubles of an old-time stove. The hauling of ashes, the shaking of grates, the tending of dampers are just a few of the inconveniences you will happily leave behind you when Superfex, the clean, dependable modern oil burning heater is installed in your home, office, or shop. Easy to light and trouble-free, the Superfex gives dependable, steady heat whenever you want it. Plenty of it, too, because Superfex is made in different sizes to suit different conditions.

SUPERFEX
oil burning HEATERS

Burn Low-Cost Fuel Oil
There are two types of Superfex Heaters—the radiant heat type, and the Heat-Director shown above which in addition to combining both radiant and circulating heat also DIRECTS the heat where you want it. Several sizes, heating capacities 2,800 to 9,770 cu. ft. depending on size and climate (equal to several ordinary rooms).

4 QUESTIONS TO ASK WHEN YOU BUY A STOVE

Will it
1 Circulate heated air like a warm air furnace?
2 Radiate heat you can feel, like a fireplace?
3 Direct heat rays downward to warm the floor?
4 End ashes and drudgery by burning any one of a wide variety of domestic fuel oils?

Only SUPERFEX COMBINES ALL 4 COMFORTS

Superfex alone gives the fourfold comfort of modern oil heating with three kinds of heat: circulating, radiating and directed heat. Patented shutters on three sides are adjustable to throw radiant heat outward or downward at any desired angle. With shutters closed, heat rises and circulates.

Do away with dirty ashes. Let your family enjoy the cleanliness, economy and convenience of SUPERFEX oil heating with its easy fueling, easy lighting and fingertip control. See modern SUPERFEX designs at your dealer's. Several sizes, porcelain enamel finish.

HEAT DIRECTED where you want it

BURNS INEXPENSIVE FUEL OIL

SUPERFEX
oil burning HEATERS

BEFORE buying winter fuel or setting up the old coal or wood stove, see the oil burning Superfex Heat-Director. It will give you a new conception of winter comfort. It provides just the heat you want where and when you want it. Patented adjustable shutters direct the heat where it is most needed. Warms floors quickly. Reduces drafts.

Will Check Colonel Grimley
New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—An efficiency board has been appointed by Governor Lehman to check the fitness of Colonel John S. Grimley to command the 369th Infantry, New York National Guard negro regiment. The board was named at the request of Major General William N. Haskell, Guard commander, who stressed that the sole issue of the inquiry was Colonel Grimley's ability and qualities of leadership. Did September come and go with no argument about equinoctial storms?

Says Hunter Directs
New England Nazis

John L. Spivak, writer and former foreign correspondent, accused Edward H. Hunter of Boston of being the New England director of Nazi activities. Spivak is shown testifying before a special legislative commission in Boston which is investigating Nazi, Fascist, Communist and Klan activities in Massachusetts.

Denies He Directs
New England Nazis

Edward H. Hunter, executive secretary of the Industrial Defense Association, whom writer John Spivak described as New England Nazi propaganda chief, will testify before a special commission probing activities of Communists, Fascists, Nazis and Klansmen in Massachusetts. Hunter is shown in his Boston office where he vigorously denied Spivak's charges.

Recalls Indian Legend

According to the Indian legends which flourish in the region of the Michigan coast, one of the tribes was driven by a forest fire from its hunting ground to the shores of Lake Michigan, where the sand hills gave them refuge from the flames, recalls a writer in the Chicago Daily News.

Everything in the path of the flames had been destroyed and the ordinarily plentiful wild life had fled or been annihilated. Surviving the blackened countryside, the Indians felt they were doomed to starvation, but one Indian brave volunteered to go in search of meat. He departed, leaving his sweetheart, who vowed to keep a signal fire burning constantly on the highest dune until his return.

Her lover never returned. The Indian maid pined away slowly but never failed to climb to the top of the highest dune to keep her signal fire lighted. One day she failed to return to the camp the tribe had built in the near-by valley.

Her brothers made their way to the top of the dune and found she had died there. They found, too, that in the dead ashes of the signal fire what appeared to be a flame was growing. The living flame continued to grow and to spread until it covered all the dunes, and thus the sumach came into being—and still covers the Michigan dunes with flame in autumn.

Royal Dreams Typified by Palms

The desire of every man to be a king is typified by Rio de Janeiro's great number of royal palms. Dom Joao, king at the beginning of the Nineteenth century, had planted the first seed of the royal palm himself and ruled that the tree was to be exclusively his. To preserve his monopoly he ordered every seed from it gathered up and burned, but the residents of Rio who wanted to imitate royalty bribed his slaves to sell the seeds. As a result royal palms soon sprang up everywhere.

Nightingale Pledge for Nurses

The Florence Nightingale pledge for nurses is: "I solemnly pledge myself before God and in the presence of this assembly to pass my life in purity, and to practice my profession faithfully. I will abstain from whatever is deleterious and mischievous, and will not take or knowingly administer any harmful drug. I will do all in my power to elevate the standards of my profession, and I will hold in confidence all personal matters committed to my keeping and all family affairs coming to my knowledge in the practice of my calling. With loyalty will I endeavor to aid the physician in his work and devote myself to the welfare of those committed to my care."

TELL OF GIRL'S SHOOTING

Charles Walton (left) and Adolph Stopper (right) told police at South Bend, Ind., that a man they thought was a motorist in trouble, shot and killed their girl companion, Melba Moore, 16, when they stopped to offer him help. Walton was grazed by a bullet. Police said they were up against a stone wall after they had questioned Stopper all night.

Little Change in Motor Fuel Money Over Last Year

County Treasurer Pratt Boice has received a draft for $42,632.31, being amount due (last year) for motor fuel tax for the quarter ended September 30. The money has been credited to the account of the Highway Department to be used for construction of county roads. It had already been allowed for in preparing the county road program for the current year.

There is less than $400 difference between the present payment and the amount received for the same quarter last year, when the total was $42,235.95.

In Memory of Ralph H. Lefever

After suffering from a long and painful illness Mr. Lefever died at his home in Rosendale on October 6, funeral services conducted by the Rev. C. V. W. Bedford of Bloomington were held from his residence on Saturday, October 9, and the throng that gathered there attested in some measure the regard and estimation in which he was held by his fellow citizens. Although the last years of his life were clouded with distress and suffering he bore the affliction with fortitude and resignation and continued to conduct his business almost to the day of his death. Prosperous, happy in the possession of all that makes life sweet and desirable, he faced the inevitable without fear or complaining, and now in the community in which he was born, where in early manhood he courted and married his wife and where he had earned the respect and esteem of all who knew him he rests at last in peace and expectation.

Perhaps the writer who has been associated in business with Mr. Lefever for many years, and who has lived to see almost everything that he has loved die, may be pardoned if he feels most acutely the passing of this last dear friend and associate.

ALAN MACKENZIE.

Government Is Blamed For Drop In Stock Values

In view of the many and conflicting explanations of the wide break in stock market prices since mid-August, the speech yesterday before the Rochester Chamber of Commerce by Winthrop W. Aldrich is of outstanding interest. Mr. Aldrich, who is chairman of the Chase National Bank, one of the largest in the country, finds the drastic declines in stock values due not to current business or foreign selling, but to governmental policies which have resulted in a "thin" and restricted market which is unable to withstand even a moderate volume of selling. He holds that the warning given August 18 by Charles H. Gay, president of the New York Stock Exchange, "has proved itself abundantly justified."

During the whole period from August 4 to September 23, it was stated, foreigners bought more than they sold. As to business, he asserted that business figures for August are extraordinarily good, while those for September show only a moderate recession. Despite these factors the market began to break in mid-August.

Mr. Aldrich cited nine factors, result of government policy, which in his opinion impaired efficiency and made the market vulnerable to moderate selling. Summarized, they are:

- Capital gains tax.
- High income taxes.
- Elimination of informed trading.
- Elimination of protective buying by "insiders."
- Inquisitorial visits by agents of the SEC.
- Wide range of uncertainty in new rules.
- Unfortunate burden of proof upon specialists.
- New margin regulations.
- Margins applied to floor traders.

Stocks opened firm yesterday, but closed off. Industrials were down 1.66 point for the day on the Dow-Jones averages, closing at 126.54; rails lost 0.37 point, to 34.29; utilities declined 0.22, to 21.57. Corporate bonds were lower.

Although private building is holding up fairly well the construction industry is feeling the effect of rising costs, the uncertain market conditions and other factors.

Federal Reserve report shows sharp drop in volume of bank and brokerage credit in stock market.

Ahavath Israel Plan to Celebrate 35th Anniversary

The Congregation Ahavath Israel on Wurts street is planning to celebrate the 35th anniversary of the congregation in November. The congregation is planning to hold in connection with the anniversary services a stage show and ball in the Kingston municipal auditorium on Broadway Thanksgiving Eve, November 24. A committee has been appointed and is arranging to make it one of the outstanding social events of the season. It is planned to have a New York stage show on the program and a prominent band.

THE JOINERS

News of Interest to Members of Fraternal Societies

Ancient City Council, No. 21, Royal and Select Masters, will hold a regular meeting tonight at Masonic Hall, Wall street.

The regular meeting of Kingston Chapter No. 155, O. E. S., will be held this evening at 8 o'clock. At the close of the meeting a covered dish supper will be served. All members of the Eastern Star and Masonic Lodges are invited to attend.

Kingston Lodge, No. 10, F. & A. M., will hold a "speaking bee" on the evening of October 19, at 8 o'clock. After the regular business is concluded, this "speaking bee" will be unusual since it will consist of lodge work only. Everyone in attendance will have an opportunity to display his ability to memorize. The music will be under the direction of Paul F. Terpening and Samuel D. Scudder, Jr. has promised a surprise in the way of refreshments. The brethren are urged to attend.

Government is probably the most difficult of all the arts of civilization; yet nearly everybody seems to think he could run a city or state organ.

New York, Oct. 15 (AP)—Heavy selling of Chrysler kicked over a sharp stock market rally today and landed numerous leaders in new low territory for 2 years or longer.

The list dipped feverishly at the opening but quickly swung into a forward push that was swift enough while it lasted to put the ticker tape 3 minutes behind. Led by T. J. Steel, favored issues replaced losses of 1 to 3 points with gains as much.

Motors, however, refused to rebound with the rest and trading slowed appreciably. Selling became more persistent later and even steels dropped from their best levels. The ticker again lagged near the final hour when offerings came out in volume. Transfers were at the rate of about 2,700,000 shares.

Bonds turned downward and commodities were uneventful.

Holding portions of their advance were T. J. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, Consolidated Aircraft, Anaconda, Kennecott, American Smelting, J. I. Case, Santa Fe, Chesapeake & Ohio and Western Union.

Chrysler was off more than 5 at the worst. Others to stumble included Cruible Steel, General Motors, Goodyear, Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, American Can, du Pont, Standard Oil of N. J., Great Northern, Phillips Petroleum, International Paper & Power preferred, American Telephone, Coca-Cola, Seaboard and Zenith Radio.

What promised to be a murder mystery was cleared up late Thursday afternoon by State Police, District Attorney Cleave B. Murray and Sheriff Molyneux when the officials solved the mystery as to whether Lillian Mitchell, former Monticello resident, had been murdered at Sundown. They found she was alive and well at Albany.

Some time ago Henry TerBush found a pocketbook on his farm at Sundown which bore the name of Lillian Mitchell. That item did not excite suspicion since anyone is liable to lose a pocketbook but recently when portions of clothing were found near the same spot by Mr. TerBush, the matter was referred to Sergeant Hopkins, Mr. Murray and Sheriff Molyneux. The clothing was identified as that of Lillian Mitchell, who had been a former resident of Sullivan county and who had not been seen about the usual places there lately.

It was suspected that there might be foul play involved and an investigation was begun Thursday.

The officials later located a brother of the missing woman at Troy and through him found his sister was in Albany. The fact that she had been seen about Monticello since the finding of the pocketbook led the officials to believe she might have met her death but several people notified the officers that she had been seen several days after the pocketbook had been found. A check, however, was made after the clothing was found and Mr. Murray this morning stated that she had been located in Albany.

Lillian Mitchell, whose husband is "Cy" Mitchell, was connected with "Cherry Lawn House" on Route 17.

It will be recalled that it was at Cherry Lawn House that a shooting took place some time ago. State Troopers had conducted a raid on the place in a drive on disorderly houses in the county of Sullivan and after the raid the people found in the place were lined up against the wall pending examination and arrests. One of the people caught in the house was jumping from a window and Sergeant Mangin of the New York police fired a shot which bit the mark.

It is expected that Lillian Mitchell will be asked to explain how her pocket-book and clothing came to be on the TerBush property. In all probability she will be taken to Sullivan county for questioning by Under Sheriff Flynn, who has been working on the case with the State Police and Ulster county officers.

An indictment was returned by the grand jury of Sullivan county against Lillian Mitchell following the trouble at Cherry Lawn House.

"Hoss" Deal and Other Cases Come Before Schirick

For the first time since the term started Justice Schirick found plenty of work today to keep the court and jury busy. On Wednesday he warned counsel that cases on the day calendar would have to be tried when reached and the warning apparently bore fruit.

A horse, a cow and a lawsuit came forward as the opening matter for the day. Salvatore Cina of New Paltz brought an action against Irving Cohen and another of Poughkeepsie to recover $94.50 as a result of a "hoss" deal. The action was not defended. Peter H. Harp appeared for the plaintiff.

Mr. Cina testified that he went to Poughkeepsie one day in search of a horse which would do plowing and other farm work. Instead of that he said he brought home a horse which ran away and was no use to him on the farm. He said he looked over several horses and was shown one which was guaranteed to work on a farm. He took it home after paying $125 cash on the agreed price of $175. In addition he said he traded a cow for an agreed price of $50, paid $2.50 to shoe the horse and also $2 for delivery. This brought his total purchase price to $179.50. The horse refused to do farm work and he notified Cohen on two dates by means of registered letters. When Cohen failed to take back the horse Mr. Cina brought it to Kingston and sold it at the Paken auction. It brought $100 but he had to pay $10 for commission and $5 expenses so the horse netted him $85. He sought to recover the difference between $179.50 and the $85 he received on the sale, or $94.50 on the theory the horse was not as warranted. A warranty was offered in evidence and received.

The matter was submitted to the jury.

No. 112, Herbert Glass against Norman Loeffel and another, a negligence action, was announced settled. Cashin & Ewig for plaintiff, William A. Earl for defendant.

No. 126, Anna Sass against Matilda Empt, known as Marie N. Furman, etc., an injunction action, was referred to Judge G. D. B. Hasbrouck, official referee. A.

Notice is further given that there will be submitted to the qualified voters said County at said General Election to be held at Kingston, N. Y., this 7th day of October, 1927, J. CHARLES SNYDER HARRY D. SIGHTON Commissioners of Elections for the County of Ulster.

For my part I am proud of the Republican policies which created a committee to investigate discrimination in employment against men and women of 40 and over; Which sought to provide an adequate highway program and increase employment; Which appropriated $510,000 for a new cancer hospital and created a commission to make a cancer survey; Which provided for slum clearance to bring health and sunshine into the lives of the poverty stricken in congested cities; Which sought to provide full state aid for kindergartens, that those unable to send their children to private schools of that nature might be assisted;

Which sought to provide agricultural assistance and restoration of the Council of Agriculture and Markets permitting farm organizations to select the members thereof;

Which in short sought to give the people of the state of New York the kind and type of government which they are entitled to receive.

During the past five years I have had the honor to represent Ulster county in the Assembly. In that period of time I have gained many legislative rights by reason of seniority. Throughout that time I have tried to perform the duties of my office honestly and honorably and without fear or favor. My record represents the best of my humble efforts. In it I find nothing for which to apologize. Of that record I am proud. I am proud of the support the people of Ulster county have given me and in seeking their continued approval I assure them that I shall continue, honestly, fearlessly and justly to represent all the people of Ulster county to the best of my ability.

Lists Contracts to Refute Charges in Ellenville Case

Oct. 14, 1937
Editor-In-Chief,
The Kingston Daily Freeman,
Kingston, N. Y.

Dear Sir:
I wish to call your attention to the enclosed article printed in your paper, Thursday evening, October 14, on Page 11, column 2, regarding the "Awarding of Contracts to Outside Parties."

The aforementioned article is not only a misstatement but a gross misrepresentation regarding the owners of the building, in the so-called "Awarding of all the contract work to out of town concerns."

For your information, we wish to enlighten you of the true facts regarding the contracts let. The contracts awarded, are as follows: Cohen & Belmont, of Ellenville, N. Y., 60 feet concrete block garage.

Julius Tanenbaum of Center Electric Co., Ellenville. All electrical work.
Lieberman & Son of Center street, Ellenville, N. Y. All gutters on Buildings and Plumbing work.

Ralph Steiner of Ellenville, N. Y. Plastering work.
Shulman & Son of Boston (painting and decorating), who are employing local men and buying all their material, in Ellenville.

The Ulster Fuel Co., of Kingston, N. Y., have been awarded the heating contract.
About 29 local men are engaged on the restoration and changes of this building which are deemed essential.

The above information in reference to the contracts let, contradicts and falsifies the statement printed in your paper and we feel, that in all fairness, you should take steps to immediately correct the wrong information that you received.

Yours very truly,
LILLIAN SCHIFF,
DR. JOHN WEISS,
and SAMUEL WEISS, L.S.
(Owners of the DuBois Building)

Girl's Leg Broken Struck by Bicycle

Anne, the six-year-old daughter of Mrs. Hilda Cole of 107 Abel street, sustained a broken leg early Thursday evening when run down by a bicycle rider. She was playing with a group of children on West Union street when a boy on a bicycle rode into the group and she was knocked down and injured. Her condition today was reported as apparently good at the Kingston Hospital where she is being attended by Dr. Jack Lechner.

WINDSOR EXPECTED TO VISIT CALIFORNIA

Hollywood, Oct. 15 (AP).—Film colony society shined up its silver, unpacked its finest linens and began studying continental topics of conversation today.

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor — how exciting! — are coming for a two weeks' visit in Southern California, arriving about November 25.

The Los Angeles Times said it learned the couple will stay three days at a San Luis Obispo county ranch, reported to be the San Simeon estate of Publisher William Randolph Hearst.

Arrangements have been made, the Times added, for the Duke and Duchess to be guests at a Santa Monica Beach home, reported to be that of Marion Davies, screen star.

Simone Simon Swoons
Hollywood, Oct. 15 (AP).—The show might have gone on, but Simone Simon, French actress, fainted on a movie set yesterday from an infected throat and a high temperature. She was ordered to rest 10 days.

Sam Gill Hit on Head by Machine

Sam Gill of East Pierpoint street, employed on the Hillerbrant shipyard at South Rondout, was struck on the head and injured Thursday. He was removed to the Kingston Hospital for treatment and his condition this noon was such that it was stated that he would leave the hospital for his home this afternoon. Mr. Gill was working on a boat at the shipyard when one of the machines used in repair work fell from the deck, striking him on the head.

Lower Hudson Regional Market

About 175 growers and buyers were represented at this morning's market session. Demand was moderate with supplies light to moderate. Market continued firm for beans, while other produce remained about steady. Very heavy frost reported in this area caused considerable damage, full extent will not be known until later.

RADIO WON'T KILL

PAPERS, EDITORS HEAR

New Orleans, Oct. 15 (AP).—The newspaper business is growing and the written word as the nation's "greatest educational force" will not be supplanted by radio, in the opinion of Carl W. Ackerman, dean of the Columbia Graduate School of Journalism.

Ackerman said the spoken word appeals to the emotions but the written word appeals to reason. "One retains what one reads better than what one hears," he added, in addressing managing editors of the Associated Press yesterday.

Ackerman told the 300 editors he believes there is an increasing demand for more "neighborhood news" in large dailies.

Out for New Record

Bonneville Salt Flats, Utah, Oct. 15 (AP).—Capt. George E. T. Eyston, wrecker of automobile speed marks, temporarily put aside aspirations for a long-distance record today to concentrate on the measured mile. "The angular Englishman explained, 'I hope to break the record of 301 miles an hour that my countryman, Sir Malcolm Campbell, established on this same race course.' Rain forced Eyston to halt after 15 1/2 hours yesterday an attempt in the 'Speed of the winds', less powerful of his two racing machines, to establish distance marks up to 24 hours.

Japanese Shrapnel Wounds U. S. Sailor

Jackson P. McMichael, of Connersville, Ind., a radio man aboard the U. S. Asiatic flagship, Augusta, was slightly injured by Japanese shrapnel during a shelling of the Pootung waterfront. A protest from American navy officials brought an apology from the Japanese.

Terrorism Adds To World Strife

damage done by six Chinese air raids over the area, intensive Japanese bombing on the fringes of the international settlement and French concessions and the deadly Sino-Japanese artillery duel. A minimum of 150 dead and wounded were officially accounted for.

The foreign casualties were apparently limited to an American sailor and a marine but Admiral Harry Yarnell and other American officers were credited with narrow escapes. They were standing on the bridge of Yarnell's flagship, the cruiser Augusta, within a few feet of radio man J. P. McMichael, of Connersville, Ind., when McMichael was struck by a piece of shrapnel and slightly wounded.

Japanese officials expressed regret that any of their shells fell within the settlement and apologized to American marine commanders for their inaccuracy in dropping two air bombs on the international side of Soochow creek and wounding Milton Hiatt, of Crystal River, Florida, in the left arm.

Forwards Protest.

Nanking, Oct. 15 (AP).—United States Ambassador Nelson Johnson today forwarded to the state department at Washington a copy of the protest of the American community of Szechwan province against Japanese aggression in China.

The protest urged the United States to use every peaceful means to withdraw moral and material support from Japan. It declared American scrap iron becomes Japanese bombs which kill civilians. American cotton makes Japanese explosives. American trucks transport Japanese troops and American oil drives Japanese planes and tanks.

"Let no specious neutrality repeat our World War profiteering," the protest said.

Broadcasting to the United States today, Wang Chung-Hui, the Chinese foreign minister, appealed to the American people not to resort to any action that would help Japan, which he declared was trying to rob China of the right to exist.

"Peace Shattered."

"Peace in the Far East is now shattered," he said, "because Japan is bent on destroying China's freedom as the first step toward her domination of Asia and mastery of the Pacific."

"The Japanese army is now using poison gas at Shanghai where she has failed to break the Chinese resistance. This has been confirmed by Dr. H. F. Ettinger, chief surgeon of the Nanking Red Cross Hospital, and Dr. B. Borcie, a representative of the League of Nations, who personally examined numerous such cases."

Seventeen heavy Japanese bombers bombarded Chuchow, northwest of Nanking, today.

DEER SEEN NEAR SCHOOL PROPERTY AT ELLENVILLE

A deer was seen crossing the field at the rear of the central school in Ellenville, Wednesday. Mrs. Dorothy V. Hocmer, teacher of the third grade, noticed the animal and allowed her pupils to go out where they could see the unusual sight. The deer stopped for a minute or so and then went on its way, disappearing in the brush near the creek.
The field where the deer was seen is part of the old Fair grounds property, now owned by the Ellenville School District, where for years the annual exhibitions of the Ulster County Agricultural Society were held.

Held for Hearing

Evelyn Steinger of Bloomington, who has been involved in several petit larceny charges growing out of an affair at the Meyers place in town of Saugerties, was arraigned this morning before Justice Bennett in Saugerties and held for a hearing on Friday at 11 o'clock. She was placed under arrest by Sergeant James J. Cunningham. Raymond Mino appeared for the defendant and asked for an adjournment until Friday. Bernhardt Kramer appeared for the prosecution.

words constitutional delegates at large will be used.
"Nevertheless," Bennett ruled, "the voters must be accorded suitable opportunity to vote as they desire for such candidates. The provisions of Section 260 of the election law indicate that the irregular or split ballot must be affixed to or written in the receptacle or device provided on the machine for that purpose."

His ruling followed complaints of members of both major parties because the individual names of the candidates were not required on the ballot.

Railroad Foreman Succumbs Today

Byron Short, for 45 years foreman of maintenance with the New York Central Railroad, died this morning at his home, 191 Bruyn avenue. Funeral services will be held from the parlors of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl street, on Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with burial in the Mt. Marlon Cemetery. Mr. Short was an active member of Charles DeWitt Council, No. 91, Jr. O. U. A. M., who will hold ritual services at the Carr parlors on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Short is survived by his wife, the former Miss Elsie Snyder, a son, Sherman J. Short, of this city; a brother, Frederick Short of Saugerties, and a sister, Miss Anna Short, of Mt. Marlon and two grandchildren.

New Directional Signs Are Placed

Superintendent David Conway has a crew of men at work installing the new directional signs on Broadway and at the principal entrances to the city. These new signs were recently ordered purchased by the board of public works and will replace the old wooden signs. The new signs which are artistic, conform with the state standards for directional signs.

Preacher Accused Of Double Murder

Nimrods by the hundreds invaded frost-bitten northern New York forests today to launch the month-long open season on deer and black bear.

Guides and hunting camp proprietors sent out word that both deer and bear, especially the former, appear to be plentiful.

Hunters are limited to one deer
—a buck with horns of at least three inches—and one bear for the season. A special deer license is required. Hunting is open in 14 counties from today to November 15.

From November 1 to November 15, the season will be open in Greene, Dutchess, Orange, Sullivan and Ulster counties.

Open season on Woodcock also began today for the mainland section of the state south of the main line New York Central tracks, while Monday at noon hunters will have the first opportunity to pursue the black, gray and fox squirrels, varying hares and cottontail rabbits, grouse and pheasants.

Five black, gray or fox squirrels may be taken each day during the season which extends until November 15, while a person may take no more than three grouse per day and 15 during the season which also continues for a month.

Varying hares and cottontails may be hunted until January 31 except on Long Island, where the season runs from November 1 to December 31 and Rockland county, where it opens November 15
for two months.

The pheasant season is the same as last year, running through Saturday, October 30, with only the male of the species legal quarry. The daily bag limit is two birds and not more than six for the season.

There is nothing in the entire zoo that has come near this feature in interest and popularity," says Schroeder.

Cottage cheese may be varied by adding one tablespoonful of any of the following for each cup of cheese: chopped pimientos,
green peppers, chives, onions,
horseradish, parsley, chopped
pickles, chopped olives or pickle relish.

The double hull type of submarine is sometimes called "submersible."

Dog Is Buddy
Of Tiger Cubs
In Detroit Zoo

(By The AP Feature Service)

Detroit—In competition with such jungle attractions as lions, giraffes and elephants, the most popular performer at the Detroit zoo this season has been a nondescript dog.

His name is Diamond and he spends his days plying around with a pair of tiger cubs in a dog and (jungle) cat act that came about rather by accident.

A Pound Dog

A tiger cub, presented to the zoo by Harry H. Bennett, personnel director of the Ford Motor Co., was pining away from lonesomeness last spring. As a temporary expedient, the dog was obtained from a pound to be a playmate. They became such fast dog, and his pal, Darling, a tiger cub.

friends that they refused to be parted when two other tiger cubs arrived.

Diamond and Darling, the cub,
were so inseparable when apart that Theodore Schroeder, head keeper, finally returned Diamond to the cage with the three tiger cubs. Schroeder had some misgivings, but they proved to be unfounded. Diamond soon was as friendly with the newcomers as he had been with Darling. The only member of the strange quarteret to suffer was one of the tiger cubs, which fell dead of excitement during a particularly violent romp one day.

Star Attraction

Just as a precaution, Diamond is removed from the cage at night.
There is no mistaking his joy, and that of the tiger cubs, when they are reunited in the morning. All day long they romp and tussle, with an occasional time-out for

IT COST ME PLENTY
Not TO BORROW

The doctor said I needed new glasses which would have cost me more money. I put off getting them because I didn't have the cash and I don't like to borrow money.

Before borrowing...consider the value of a loan to you.
Know what it costs to borrow—and what it might cost
not to borrow.

LOANS — ALL PLANS
Quick. Private. Friendly
Simple

You need only ONE thing to get a loan here: to be able to make small, regular repayments on any loan plan
you select.
